Standby Statement for Medical Nutrition products:

Abbott's medical nutrition products such as Ensure are made in the United States, Canada, Europe and Japan. Abbott and our suppliers do not use milk or milk protein from China. As a result, our products are not impacted by the current situation in China, and no Abbott products have been found to contain melamine.

Abbott's medical nutrition products are made in world-class facilities using high-quality ingredients from reputable suppliers. All suppliers must undergo a rigorous qualification process before we purchase any ingredients from them. Following qualification and prior to use, each lot of ingredients is assessed to ensure that it complies with our specifications. Abbott performs ongoing oversight of our suppliers, and we perform extensive quality checks on our medical nutrition products before they are released for sale.

Ensuring product quality, safety and integrity is the top priority of our company and our employees.
